Albums Chartifacts:

#1: Paul Kelly 'Life Is Fine' (debut) – Legendary Australian singer-songwriter Paul Kelly scores his first ever #1 on the ARIA Albums Chart with Life Is Fine, in career spanning 40 years. Kelly's 23rd studio album comes following a busy 2016 that saw him release two albums: Seven Sonnets And A Song (#9 May '16) and Death's Dateless Night (#16 Oct. '16). Life Is Fine takes over from Songs From The South (#2 Jun. '97) as Kelly's highest-charting album and from ... Nothing But A Dream (#7 Aug. '01) as his highest-charting studio album. Paul Kelly was inducted into the ARIA Hall Of Fame in 1997.

#3: Kesha 'Rainbow' (debut) – The third album from Kesha gives the American artist the highest peak of her career on the ARIA Albums Chart. Rainbow is Kesha's first album since Warrior (#12 Dec. '12) and the first to hit the top five since debut Animal (#4 Jan. '10). The album includes the single 'Praying' (#6 Aug. '17).

#5: Jen Cloher 'Jen Cloher' (debut) – With her self-titled fourth album, Melbourne singer-songwriter Jen Cloher makes her top 50 debut on the ARIA Albums Chart. The album is the follow-up to 2013's In Blood Memory and features guest appearances from Dan Luscombe of The Drones and American singer-songwriter Kurt Vile.

#13: The Preatures 'Girlhood' (debut) – Album two from The Preatures gives the Sydney rock band their second appearance in the top 50 on the ARIA Albums Chart. Girlhood is the follow-up to the group's ARIA-nominated debut Blue Planet Eyes (#4 Oct. '14).

#14: Avicii 'Avicii' (debut) – Swedish DJ/producer Avicii picks up his first appearance on the ARIA Albums Chart since Stories (#10 Oct. '15) with the EP Avicii. The six track release includes the track 'Without You' (#33 Aug. '17) as well as collaborations with Rita Ora and AlunaGeorge.
