2. Post Malone & Swae Lee 'Sunflower'
3. Ava Max 'Sweet But Psycho'
4. Ariana Grande 'Thank U, Next'
5. Wham! 'Last Christmas'

Singles Chartifacts:

#1: Mariah Carey 'All I Want For Christmas Is You' – Twenty four years after its initial release, All I Want for Christmas Is You by Mariah Carey finally lands at #1 on this week's ARIA Singles Chart. The track has been re-entering the singles chart every festive season since 2012. This week's position in top spot beats the track's original peak of #2 during its original chart run in 1994, which it held for two weeks.

#5: Wham! 'Last Christmas' – Jumping up thirteen spots on this week's chart, Wham's Last Christmas lands in the top 5 for only the second time since its inaugural appearance at #3 in December 1984. The single has been working its way up the ARIA Singles Chart Top 40 for the last four weeks.

#14: John Lennon, Yoko Ono & Plastic Ono Band 'Happy Xmas (War Is Over)' – Coming in at #14 this week and making its first appearance on the ARIA Singles Chart is Happy Xmas (War is Over) by John Lennon, Yoko Ono & The Plastic Ono Band. The single jumped straight into the ARIA top 40 singles this week with the track previously peaking in the Top 10 in the early 70's (pre-ARIA Charts).

ABOUT THE ARIA CHART: The ARIA Charts are the official record of the hottest singles and albums in Australia. The ARIA charts are based on data collected from a combination of physical and digital retailers, and music-streaming services. We are the only aggregator representative of the wide spectrum of music consumption in Australia and a trusted weekly barometer of what's popular in music right now. For over 30 years, the Australian music-loving public has turned to the ARIA Charts every week to find out what music fans across the country are listening to and loving. We've seen Australian artists dethrone international superstars from the number one spot, unknowns emerge to become worldwide hit makers, and records set that may never be broken. The weekly ARIA Charts are released on Apple Music and Spotify each week on Saturdays at 5pm AEST time.
